- 1. The prototype Anamorphic Eyepieces were delivered directly to NPIC on 11 March 1968. Extensive testing indicates that they are acceptable. The Operational Manuals have also been received.
- 2. The Contractor produced an excellent prototype device, but because of the extensive time dolay in delivery—over eight months was required for an originally scheduled five month Phase II effort—it is recommended that the Contractor not be given the highest performance rating of "excellent." Therefore, they should be rated at the next highest level of "good." Additionally, because of the overrun that occurred the fee should be reduced in accordance with the contractual schedule.
- 3. This final report certifies that all deliverable items under this contract have been received.
